MEDIMURJE

In the north of Croatia, between the rivers Mura and Drava, there is Medimurje. It is a landscape bordered by rivers - soft, peaceful and yet playful and arranged with love like an idyllic garden, which is why this small region has been called Hortus Croatiae - the Flower Garden of Croatia for centuries. Almost a third of this "garden" is part of the UNESCO International Biosphere Reserve Mura-Drava-Danube. The space is endowed with exceptional biodiversity, preservation of traditional culture and authentic lifestyle of local people. All this can be experienced in the top tourist offer that has been recognised three times in recent years as the European Destination of Excellence (EDEN) on the topics of sustainable tourism in rural areas, tourism and local gastronomy, wellness and health tourism. Visit the area between two waters and experience its pearls of nature..

1. BETWEEN TWO WATERS

Visitor Centre Križovec

Museological gem Visitor Centre Between Two Waters is imbued with love for Međimurje's natural heritage and the need to preserve the native nature. It is located in a small Međimurje settlement Križovec, at Trg Međimurske prirode 1. It is the first and only Croatian square dedicated to nature. Here is also the office of Međimurje Nature - Public Institution for Nature Protection. On the ground floor of the Centre there are two modernly equipped galleries with a permanent interpretation display, a souvenir shop and an entrance info desk. In the vicinity of the Centre there is an interpretation log cabin Moj hrast Adam (My Oak Adam) and a children's playground Rječica.

What is mrtvica, does Međimurje also have its cod, why is it important to preserve bregunice, who are laporaši, what the legend of the Drava waterman tells us about, who are the fljojsari, which tropical bird flies through Međimurje and why kockavica and crnkasta sasa are endangered species, are only several of the curiosities interpreted by the Between Two Waters Visitor Centre.

2. SVETOMARTINSKA MURA

Eco - tourist educational walking and bicycle trail

The northernmost municipality of the Republic of Croatia, Sveti Martin na Muri, pays special attention to sports-recreational and wellness facilities, in which the eco-tourist educational hiking and cycling trail Svetomartinska Mura fits perfectly. Along the right bank of the river Mura, next to the settlements of Žabnik and Sveti Martin na Muri, there are five kilometres of trails suitable for walking, hiking, cycling, fishing and similar recreational activities for all age groups.

The story of local natural and cultural phenomena is narrated through interpretation boards placed along the trail with arranged rest areas, forest classrooms and a romantic wooden bridge. From the boards you can find out who are the villains in nature, how frogs live in Žabnik, why the Mura River is the main vein of Međimurje and Prekmurje, what is the life cycle of dragonflies from the swamps and many other instructive details and interesting facts from the flora and fauna of the landscapes of Sveti Martin. The trail connects interesting attractions: Visitor Centre "Mlinarov grunt" (Miller's Ground) with an old river mill, river ferryboat and multimedia ethno collection "One day in the life of Miller Franc Žalar", Međimurje horse pasture, fishing lodge with fishing trail and Visitor Centre "Skelarska hiža" (Ferryman's House). The Svetomartinska Mura trail passes through the attractive natural environment of the protected area (Mura-Drava Regional Park) and is part of the Croatian-Hungarian Mura-Drava-Danube Transboundary Biosphere Reserve declared by UNESCO. Part of the trail is the international cycling route R2 Mura bike, along which you can stop at two restaurants offering local food and drinks.

3. MATULOV GRUNT (MATUL'S LAND) Educational and Research Centre Frkanovec

The old traditional house "hiža" in Frkanovec, today Matul's land, was built more than a hundred years ago in the spirit of the tradition of the Međimurje region. It is a well-preserved example of rural architecture in Međimurje. With the reconstruction and conversion of the house, the associated farm buildings and land, an educational and research centre dedicated to blue butterflies and important habitats of plant and animal species of the upper Međimurje was created.

In the Kajkavian dialect, the term "matul" is used for the word butterfly, and the word "grunt" for a plot or property. In the spirit of the Kajkavian region of Međimurje, the centre is named Matul's land. It is located in the area of the Natura 2000 ecological network, not far from the "Bedekovićeve graba" site. The wet meadows of "Bedekovićeve graba" are protected as a natural monument due to the presence of

Matul's land contains a space for living and creative work, a permanent art exhibition about the meadows and butterflies of upper Medimurje, as well as a space for lectures and workshops. The old house in Frkanovec is the place of residence of natural scientists, researchers or artists. The centre further interprets the importance of mowing meadows that would turn into forests with the cessation of mowing, which would cause the disappearance of butterflies and significant species of flora and fauna from this area. Be sure to announce your visit to Matul's land by e-mail or phone.
